We provide exceptional hands-on learning, state of the art labs and technologies, and industry-trained instructors to help our students learn the skills they need to be successful in a competitive, ever-changing world. Our institution is divided into four schools of study. The JR Shaw School of Business is the largest business school in Alberta, and allows students to pursue either a two-year diploma or four year bachelor degree in the different areas of business study, such as human resource management and marketing to name just two. The School of Applied Science and Technology is our largest school, with various programs separated into seven concentrations including analytical sciences, renewable resources, information and communications technology, construction management and design, media/creative and communications, manufacturing and automation, and energy. The School of Health and Life Sciences is our most competitive school to apply to and trains students to work in our allied health services, providing a vital and essential role in our communities. Our final school is the School of Skilled Trades, where we provide the technical training for many essential trades, as well as opportunities for students to pursue a two-year diploma in several.”
